SUFFERING BOOMERS.

Hard Times for Waiting Thousands at the Strip.

Prostrations by the Heat--Negro Boomers Swindled.

Not Enough Clerks for the Business at the Registering Booths.

OUTRAGE, O. T., Sept. 14.--Twenty thousand people were yesterday added to the immense crowds on the line of the Cherokee Strip. The force of clerks at the registration booths is being increased, but, work as hard as they will, the line grows larger instead of smaller. Supplies are running low and prices are going up. A hot wind has blown all day from the south, burning everything up and hurrying clouds of dust into the face and eyes of everybody. About twenty people, four or five of them women, fainted in line during the day, and several are dangerously ill from the effects of the heat.

A colony of several hundred negroes arrived yesterday, every one having a printed certificate granting him a farm of land upon his arrival and presentation of the name to the land office. These people were victimized by some scoundrel who travelled through Louisiana, and sold them these certificates at $25 each. Other parties have arrived with tickets admitting them to a draw in the Cherokee Strip, and some of them which they have paid several dollars each.

Hennessey yesterday a man from Kansas City was knocked down on the main street and robbed of $200.

It is estimated by conservative men that by Saturday there will be on the line to take part in the race about five persons for every claim on the strip.

At Orlando over 500 women have been in line for two days, and a special register booth was opened for them yesterday afternoon. A large force of extra clerks are being sent to the line, and ten more booths will be opened at every registering point to-day.

Gov. Renfrow, in accordance with instructions from Washington, last night issued a proclamation instructing all sheriffs to employ deputies to prevent all parties going into the strip from carrying deadly weapons.

Eleven thousand people were yesterday issued at Orlando in three days, and at 1 o'clock last night 6,500 people were in line, which will increase to 10,000 this morning. The people who registered yesterday numbered 2,600.

TRIAL DAY FOR ELLISON.
He Will Be Called Before Recorder Smyth Sept. 25.

Recorder Smyth, in Part III. of the General Sessions, this morning set Sept. 25 as the trial day for Frank Ellison. It is the day Ellison's counsel asked for yesterday.

Affidavits were filed by the defendant and William H. Henrichs, the complainant.

Ellison's affidavit stated that he had been an important and material witness in the case of the city. Without this evidence, he alleged, he could not safely go to trial.

Henrichs' affidavit stated that he was in a very feeble and nervous condition, suffering continually from intense headache and vertigo, and unable to walk without the assistance of a cane.

His physician had informed him that he was liable at any moment to succumb to apoplexy, and that he was, therefore, desirous that his affidavit be filed for an early date.

Mr. Henrichs called upon Assistant District Attorney Osborne this morning and remained about one hour. It is said that they went over the evidence.

CAUGHT BY HIS CHAIN.
Skeleton of an Escaped Central Park Fox Found in Shrubbery.

In cleaning away the shrubbery on the Rugby Academy athletic grounds, Ninth-second street and Central Park West, this morning workmen found the skeleton of a fox. It is believed to be one of those that escaped from the Park Menagerie several months ago.

Attached to the skeleton was a chain, which had caught in the shrubbery. The animal had evidently starved to death.

NEWELL SAYS NOT GUILTY.

The Park Policeman Accused of Extorting Blackmail.
Judge Fitzgerald, in Part I. General Sessions, this morning overruled the demurrer in the case of Alfred C. Newell, the park policeman who is under indictment for bribery and extortion.

He then pleaded not guilty and was remanded for trial.

Warrants Issued for Three.
James House, of 136 Second street, Newark, lost a pocketbook on Monday evening at Henderson and Eighth streets, Jersey City, containing $21 in bills and a much larger sum in checks. Detective Dalton learned that it had been found by a girl named Nellie Brooks, and had been turned over to her father, Brooks, who threatened with arrest offered to return $21, and denied having seen the checks, but bits of them were found in his house. This morning Justice O'Donnell issued warrants for the arrest of Brooks, his wife and daughter.

Morris Jennelle is Free.
Morris Jennelle, the salesman who attempted suicide by cutting his throat in a cell at the Eldridge street station last Saturday night, while under arrest on the charge of stealing an umbrella, was discharged in the Essex Market Court to-day. The evidence was not sufficient to warrant holding him.

THE REVOLT IN BRAZIL.

Advices that the Bombardment of Rio Has Begun.

Coffee Advances Three-Quarters of a Cent on the News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.--Secretary Gresham has received the following cable from Minister Thompson at Rio, dated yesterday:

"At 11 this morning revolutionary forces bombarded forts commanding entrance harbor; also arsenal on wharf centre of city."

"A few shells were fired into the city and a woman was killed in her residence."

"Commercial telegrams have again been forbidden. Charleston has not yet arrived."

Advices to this same effect were published this morning, coming by way of London.

It was also stated that the garrison of the strongest fort at Rio had joined the rebels.

When the Coffee Exchange opened this morning the sole topic of conversation was the Brazilian trouble and its effect upon the market here.

Not a single broker or merchant had received the slightest information upon the subject.

The supply of coffee at this time is unusually small, and prices have already advanced 3-4 of a cent, per pound.

THE TROUBLE IN PRAGUE.

Police Disperse a Meeting of Young Czechs.

PRAGUE, Sept. 14.--Despite the prohibition by the Government of political banquets, 150 young Czechs, including several members of the Reichsrath, assembled in a restaurant on Sopotin Island on Tuesday night and refused to disperse until the police threatened to forcibly clear the place. Upon leaving the building they were greeted by the shouting and derisive shouts of "Our members are the first to flee from bayonets."

In accordance with the Imperial decree, issued yesterday, suspending articles 12 and 13 of the constitutional law in this city and its suburbs, five young Czech journals, the utterances of which were offensive to the Government, have been suspended.

THE KAISER LAUDED.

"First Servant of the State" and "Master of All Great Questions."

BERLIN, Sept. 14.--Dr. Miquel, Prussian Minister of Finance, proposing the health of Emperor William at a banquet at Gensabruck, said that the Emperor had taken for his motto "The King is the first servant of the State."

"In the short period of his reign," said Dr. Miquel, "he has carried out great reforms. He is a man of the modern type. He is completely master of all the great questions of the present day, and is in sympathy with everything tending to progress."

"He judges with an impartial eye all problems, and stands the centre of our National life. We may trust him to be the protector of the German people, and everything German, in a far greater measure than is acknowledged at the present moment."

FAULKNER'S CURRENCY PLAN.

Retirement of Small Bills and $800,000,000 Silver Coinage.

An Amendment by Some Regarded as the Coming Compromise.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.--Senator Faulkner will to-day offer in the Senate his amendment to the pending financial bill, to which he referred the other day in his speech. This amendment is looked upon in some quarters as the possible solution of the present difficulty.

Mr. Faulkner's amendment withdraws from circulation all notes, save the legal tender greenbacks, of denominations less than $10 and substitutes in their stead silver coin, so that there can be no expansion of the currency except as provided in the further section of his amendment. He believes that by the withdrawal of these notes silver dollars and $5 and $20 gold pieces will circulate alongside of each other the ordinary course of trade.

He provides for the coinage of silver up to an aggregate of $800,000,000, and when that amount is reached the coinage of silver will cease absolutely.

The present aggregate of silver coin, including subsidiary coin, amounts to $15,000,000, to which the increase under the amendment will be $785,000,000.

It will be provided, first, that no more purchases of silver bullion shall be made until the seigniorage and bullion now in the Treasury, amounting to $5,000,000, have been coined.

This is to be done at the rate of $300,000 a month, and at this rate it will take more than three years to coin the seigniorage and bullion now in the Treasury, the estimate being made, of course, on the coinage value of the bullion.

When that period has elapsed the Secretary is directed to buy silver and coin at the same rate until the limit designated shall have been reached. Mr. Faulkner computes that to accomplish this will take about seven years.

According to the present program it is understood that after this amendment is introduced President Cleveland will be waited upon by a number of Senators and will ask him to favor this as a compromise.

SUP. PRESTON'S DEFENSE.

Why Brooklyn's Commercial Bank Was Not Closed Sooner.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 14.--Superintendent Charles M. Preston, of the State Banking Department, was asked to-day to reply to the charges of neglect in the examination of the Commercial Bank of Brooklyn, preferred by the depositors. Said he:

"I am willing to have my actions investigated at any time, but I do not want to have my case tried in the newspapers."

"To begin with, I do not know just what the depositors charge in this particular case. The Commercial Bank was examined by me last September, and the examination was a good one, and had a small surplus."

"Every bank in the State is examined once a year, and wherever I find any necessity for an extra examination, I make one. We get four reports a year from all the banks, and whenever any of these indicate that anything is wrong an investigation is made."

The last report from the Commercial Bank was made in June and showed that the bank was all right. The examination was made in July, and showed that the bank was all right. The statements made in some of the papers that I have not been at my duties are false, as any investigation will show."

The Committee of Five, representing the depositors of the suspended Commercial Bank of Brooklyn, was asked to-day to go to Albany to consult Attorney General Roseblade as to the advisability of having an associate receiver appointed to represent the creditors.

While in Albany the Committee will present charges against Banking Superintendent Preston for not closing the bank's doors long before it was forced to suspend.

Justice Cullen, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, has granted the application of W. H. H. Hornsman & Co., of the Fifth Ward, for an order directing Receiver Dykman to pay over to them the balance on the check of the last week.

CEILIA WESTON FOUND.
She Ran Away from Newark to Go on the Stage.

Eighteen-year-old Ceilia Weston, who disappeared from her home in Newark, N. J., eight months ago, has at last returned.

Some of her friends visited Coney Island three weeks ago and learned that Ceilia was a chorus girl in one of the companies there. Her parents were notified, but when they arrived Ceilia had gone.

In the reports of Saturday's fire at Bennett's Casino, in Brooklyn, Miss Weston's name appeared as a member of the restaurant company.

Her parents went to Brooklyn, and last night met their missing daughter on Alabama avenue.

When she was taken to the Liberty Hotel, she was found to be suffering from a severe case of malaria, and was returning to Newark or going into a cell.

McBride Caught in Jersey City.
John McBride, of 152 Sixth street, Jersey City, sold a load of vegetables belonging to his employer, John C. Williams, of Newark, and was arrested in Jersey City. He is held for the Essex Market Court.

Big Sale of Cotton Goods.
The sale of $2,000 worth of cotton goods, the product of the Amoskeag Mills, was begun this morning at the auction rooms of Wilmerding, Morris & Mitchell, 61 and 63 White street. The sale was largely attended by buyers representing the big dry-goods houses of the United States.

ABLAZE IN HELL GATE.

Deckhand Nelsen Escaped Death on a Burning Dredge.

Tugs Rescued Him and Put Out the Flames.

Terrific Dynamite Explosion Narrowly Averted.

United States dredge No. 5 was almost destroyed by fire while anchored in Hell Gate early this morning, and Olof Nelsen, a deckhand, was badly burned while trying to extinguish the flames.

Nelsen was alone on the dredge, asleep in his bunk, when the fire broke out, about 12:30 this morning.

According to his story, the cracking of the timbers and the smoke awakened him, and rushing from his bunk he attempted to put out the fire.

It was a losing fight, however, and Nelsen came near losing his life in the attempt.

The blazing dredge was seen by the pilots of the tugs Charles Runyon and John T. Pratt, which steamed alongside and began pumping water into her.

They were unable to get the flames under control, however, until the dredge was almost a complete wreck.

Nelsen was taken ashore and to the 418 Eighth street police station, where he was sent to the Presbyterian Hospital.

He was badly burned about the head, hands and feet. He is twenty-eight years old.

The origin of the fire is unknown.

The flames from the burning dredge lighted the river for miles. People in this city, Astoria and other Warrenton City Islands at first thought a vessel was on fire.

While the dredge was burning, great damage to property and probable loss of life was averted by the presence of a mild fire of three of the Government steam drill, General Newton, which lay alongside.

The dredge and drill were moored near Middle Reef and the General Newton had on board 100 pounds of dynamite.

The moment the fire was discovered Edward Hudson, Michael Fullerton and James Hiscup, at the risk of their lives, boarded the Newton and threw the explosive into East River. Had they not done so the situation on Warrenton Island would undoubtedly have been wrecked by a terrific explosion.

DIED IN HIS OFFICE.
Samuel Strauss, Cigar Manufacturer Stricken with Heart Disease.

Samuel Strauss, a wealthy cigar manufacturer, died suddenly of heart disease in his office at 71 William street, at 12 o'clock to-day.

Mr. Strauss, who is fifty years old, and was apparently in excellent health, came downtown at the usual hour, 8:30, this morning.

He was busy with his mail when he was suddenly stricken, and a salesman, Curran von Campa, was the only one in the office at the time.

Mr. Strauss had fallen to the floor, was carried to the lounge in the office and a doctor was summoned.

He died about ten minutes after he was taken to the lounge, and a coroner's jury was called to view the body.

Notice was sent to the coroner's office, and an autopsy was made. Mr. Strauss' body will be removed to his late home, at 342 East Fifty-seventh street, where he leaves a widow and four children, who are all grown up.

YELLOW JACK AT BRUNSWICK.

Dr. Gutierrez Finds One Case That Was Reported as Consumption.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.--Surgeon-General Wyman, of the Marine Hospital Service, last night received a telegram from Sanitary Inspector John Gutierrez, at Brunswick, Ga., saying:

"Post-mortem reveals to-day the fourth case of yellow fever. A German shoemaker taken sick last Friday. Resided in the business centre of Brunswick over his shop. Will vacate house around and disinfect."

Later Dr. Wyman received a second telegram from Dr. Gutierrez, stating that he had just performed an autopsy on a case of yellow fever which had been concealed from him, a death certificate from consumption having been given.

He also reported another case of yellow fever, that of a colored child, who was taken sick on Monday.

A Death from Cholera Reported at Ashton-Under-Lyne.

LONDON, Sept. 14.--There was a death from cholera to-day at Ashton-under-Lyne, a manufacturing town six and a half miles from Manchester.

ALVO'S AGENTS HAVE HOPE.

They Say the Jamaica Despatch Was Not Authentic.

Pin, Forwood & Co., New York agents for the Atlas line steamer Alvo, have not yet given up all hope that the vessel, or at least her passengers, will be rescued. They say that the recent despatch from Kingston, Jamaica, to the effect that the Alvo had been given up by the Alvo, was not authentic.

THE CHINESE MUST GO.

Other Celestials Accuse Warry Charles of Extortion.

The Interpreter Held in $3,000 Bail for Examination.

Six new complaints, charging extortion, were made against Warry Charles in the Tombs Court to-day.

Charles is the official Chinese interpreter at the Custom House. He was arrested several days ago on the complaint of Chu Shou, who paid Charles $5 in the presence of Detective Heideberg.

Shou said he gave the money to Charles on account of a threat of the latter that Chinese Inspector Scharf would send him back to China if he was not given $5. Charles said the money was a loan.

Heideberg doesn't understand Chinese, but he believes Shou, and in order to strengthen the case made the additional complaint this morning.

Attorney McLaughlin appeared for the Chinese complainants. Detective Heideberg says he can get hundreds of complaints against Charles. He accuses Chinese Inspector Scharf of using his influence to protect Charles and said to-day:

"I may make it hot for Scharf."

After the complaints were sworn to Justice Meade held Charles in $3,000 bail. He will be defended by Attorneys Carpenter and George W. Glaze, of the firm of Carpenter, Glaze & Co., 111 Broadway.

WE'RE THEY DECEYED HERE?

Two Girls Taken from an Alleged Disorderly House.

Mrs. Jansen Says She Was Asked to Find Work for Them.

Capt. Schultz, of the West Twentieth street police station, took two young girls found them under suspicious circumstances about midnight in a house at 286 West Sixteenth street, occupied by Mrs. Mammie Jansen.

The girls are Mammie Fitzgerald, seventeen years old, and Mary Ann Walsh, sixteen years old, both hailing from New York City.

N. Y., where they lived in a convent, both are good looking and respectable.

Just before 12 o'clock last night Detective Schultz, of the Central office, informed Capt. Schultz that the two young women were being detained by Mrs. Jansen for immoral purposes.

He, with Patrolman McCormick, went to the house and arrested the girls.

"We lived in the convent at Bluevelt," Monday Mrs. Jansen brought a child to the police station, and said she would get employment in New York if we could come here with her."

When the girls came to the city and went to Mrs. Jansen's house, she did not try to get any work. That evening, Monday, she was taken to the police station and nearly frightened out of her senses.

She said she tried to find work but failed, and having nowhere to go in this big city, returned to Mrs. Jansen's house, where she was taken to the police station.

Capt. Schultz told a reporter of "The Evening World" that he had ascertained that the girls had no other proposition to the young girls in the way of leading a fast life. They were innocent of the crime charged, and the abduction law. The Captain said he didn't expect to make any arrest.

"I am innocent of the crime charged, and my most earnest hope is that the body will be returned and an examination by reputable physicians made."

"I am confident that would necessarily result in their being released."

"I have never consented to any illegal practice and I never would whatever the motive might be. One in my position must rely wholly upon his honor and reputation for the friends of justice."

"I feel that I am unjustly accused, and that I will be able at the proper time to show my innocence to the satisfaction of any fair judge."

"When Justice Koch renders his decision as to whether or not I shall be held for the Grand Jury, whatever it may be, then perhaps I may have something further to say."

"I have not really engaged counsel, for the reason that I did not think it was necessary. In the event of my being held, however, I shall, of course, retain as good a lawyer as I think necessary."

Kerns refused to see reporters, Mrs. Williams, the brother-in-law of the alleged victim, says that if Judge Koch declares of refusal to entertain this charge he will prefer a charge of larceny against Kerns.

He said Kerns stole a ring from the dead woman's hand and pawned the same for $10.

Mrs. Williams exhibited the ticket for the ring, in the Jefferson Market Police Court, this morning. He declared he had received the same from Kerns.

Kerns, he alleges, confessed to him that he had taken the ring from the woman's finger and pawned it for the amount paid.

Mrs. Williams alleges that Kerns had removed certain things from a bureau drawer, and that he subsequently told her he had taken clothes belonging to a woman to indemnify himself against any loss.

Three Reported Burned to Death.
SHEKANE, Wis., Sept. 14.--The city hall building was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon, and three miners who were at work upon the roof are reported to have been killed by the flames. Loss $75,000; insurance $20,000.

Mrs. Woram's Trial Resumed.
The trial of Policeman Woram's wife, Milah, charged with having assisted Harry Bentley in the ruin of her daughter Elizabeth, fifteen years old, was resumed before Judge Fitzgerald in Part I. of the General Sessions, to-day.

Long Island City, L.
